A NEW COMMENTARY ON

The Book of Genesis.

By Professor FRANZ DELITZSCH, D.D. In 2 volumes, demy 8vo, cloth. Volume I. now ready $3.00. Vol. II. shortly.

Messrs. Scribner & Welford have pleasure in intimating that by special arrangement with the author they are publishing a translation of the fifth edition, thoroughly revised, and in large part rewritten, of this standard commentary. The learned author, who has for a generation been one of the foremost Biblical scholars of Germany, and who is revered alike for his learning and his piety, has here stated with evident care his latest and most matured opinions.

"Thirty-five years have elapsed since Professor Delitzsch's Commentary on Genesis first appeared; fifteen years since the fourth edition was published, in 1872. Ever in the van of historical and philological research, the venerable author now comes forward with another fresh edition in which he incorporates what fifteen years have achieved for illustration and criticism of the text of Genesis. . . . We congratulate Professor Delitzsch on this new edition, and trust that it may appear before long in an English dress. By it, not less than by his other commentaries, he has earned the gratitude of every lover of Biblical science, and we shall be surprised if, in the future, many do not acknowledge that they have found in it a welcome help and guide."—The London Academy.

NOTES IN SEASON.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish next week in their Town and Country Library, "The Apostate," by Ernest Daudet.

T. B. PETERSON & BROS. have added to their twenty-five cent series "Albine, or, the Abbé's temptation," by Emile Zola; and "The Old Homestead," by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens.

MACMILLAN & Co. have in press a new work on Darwinism, by Dr. Alfred Russell Wallace, which promises to have much scientific significance. The first volume in their new English Men of Action Series will be "Gen. Gordon," by Sir William Butler. A volume will be issued each month.

W. H. MORRISON, Washington, D. C., has just published the fourth volume of Mr. James Schouler's "History of the United States under the Constitution." The period covered is 1831-1847, and the fifth (and perhaps concluding) volume, which will break off at 1861, is now in active preparation.

THE WORTHINGTON COMPANY will publish at once a centennial edition of their handsome volume, "Our Presidents," by Virginia Townsend; an interesting volume on the "History and Antiquities of Freemasonry," by Geo. F. Fort, and a new library edition of "Robert Elsmere," printed on fine laid paper. They also announce a general clearance sale in their retail department.

ROBERTS BROS. will publish on the 15th inst. "Louis Lambert," by Balzac, translated by Katharine Prescott Wormeley, with a long and careful introduction by George Frederic Parsons, in which he shows the full significance of this great master's work; the first American edition of "The Story of Realmah," by Sir Arther Helps; George Meredith's new volume of poetry, "A Reading of Earth;" and a volume by P. G. Hamerton, entitled "Portfolio Papers," with a portrait of the author, etched from life by H. Manesse.

JOHN MURPHY & Co. announce in press for early issue "Our Christian Heritage," a new volume by Cardinal Gibbons; "Catholic Church and Christian State," a series of essays on the relation of the church to the civil power, translated from the German of Cardinal Joseph Hergenroether, Archivist of the Vatican; "Manual of the Holy Face," by the Rev. Abbé Janvier, translated from the French; and two new books are added to Murphy's edition of Faber's works, in a volume of "Poems;" and a two-volume work on "Notes on Doctrinal and Spiritual Subjects."

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. will publish shortly a work entitled "Social Progress," an inquiry into the fundamental principles of social ethics, and a discussion of the trend of social evolution, by Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the new President of the Nineteenth Century Club. They are about to follow Mr. Besant's "Eulogy of Richard Jefferies" with a volume of Jefferies' uncollected papers under the apt title of "Field and Hedge-row," in which will appear the latest essays of the Englishman who best continued the tradition of White of Selborne. Among the subjects are "Hours of Spring," "The Makers of Summer" and "Time of Year," which are treated with the sympathy and the knowledge that lead a critic to call Jefferies "the English Thoreau." They are also to publish Frank R. Stockton's "The Great War Syndicate," which recently appeared in Collier's Once a Week.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

RÉNAN has completed the second volume of his "History of the Jews." There is one more volume to come.

PROFESSOR S. R. GARDINER, who will soon publish the second volume of his "History of the Great Civil War," declares that he will keep on with his seventeenth century studies so long as life and health remain to him, bringing out, as heretofore, one volume every two years. As he has just reached the year 1647, and each volume contains the history of two years, it will take him at this rate twelve years to bring his great history down to the death of the Protector.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); (Q. 4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

- Conklin, B: Y. A complete graded course in English grammar and composition. N. Y., Appleton, 1889. c. '88. 7+296 p. D. cl., 75 c.
- A practical working manual for the assistance of the teacher as well as the pupil. The author has sought to present the subject in an easy, natural, and progressive way, and, as far as possible, to avoid repetition; yet by a judicious selection of graded sentences and carefully arranged questions for review, to keep before the mind of the learner what he has already learned. The aim of the book is to make the study of English grammar more interesting, and thus to render the progress of the pupil in it more rapid, and his mastery of it complete.
- Cox, G: D. Run down: a psychological novel. Phil., T. B. Peterson & Bros., [1889.] c. '88. 18-242 p. S. pap., 25 c.
- William Fano, the hero, is a Catholic priest, living in New Orleans. He is made the centre of a daring and ingenious plot, which shows that he is either an unprincipled man leading a double life, or that he possesses, as he himself thinks, "a fiendish double," who gets him into all kinds of trouble. Fano's best friend is a physician, who first thinks him crazy, and who finally endeavors to unravel the mystery with the aid of a detective. The interest is well sustained to the end, the final explanation being possible and yet startling.
- Cox, S:, D.D. The house and its builder, with other discourses: a book for the doubtful. N. Y., T: Whittaker, 1889. 4-195 p. D. cl., $1.
- "These sermons are not addressed to those who are either hostile to religion or indifferent to it, but to that large and increasing class to whom the loss of a reasonable faith is as a sentence of death, who long to believe and yet find the dogmas in which they have been reared growing more and more incredible to them."—Preface.

Liggins, Rev. J. The great value and success of foreign missions: with an introduction by Arthur T. Pierson, D.D. N. Y., The Baker & Taylor Co., [1889.] c. '88. 11+237 p. D. cl., 75 c.; pap., 35 c.

This book is a summing up of the testimony of diplomatic ministers, consuls, naval officers, and scientific and other travellers in heathen and Mohammedan countries; together with that of English Viceroy, Governors, and military officers in India and in the British colonies; also leading facts and late statistics of the missions. In Dr. Pierson's happy phrase, it is "a mighty massing of testimony" to the worth of foreign missions, and their potencies as a factor in the civilization of the world.

Lowell, Ja. Russell. The English poets; Lessing, Rousseau: essays; with an apology for a preface. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1888. 3-337 p. S. (The Camelot ser.) cl., 40 c.

The titles of the essays are: Spenser; Shakespeare once more; Milton; Wordsworth; Keats; Lessing; Rousseau and the sentimentalists.

Miller, Mrs. Alex. McVeigh. The bride of the tomb; or, Lancelot Darling's betrothed. N. Y., J. W. Lovell Co., [1889.] 144 p. D. (Lovell's lib., no. 1246.) pap., 25 c.

Milton, J. Paradise regained; Minor poems. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1888. 5+315 p. T. (Canterbury poets.) cl., 40 c.

Mulholland, Rosa. A fair emigrant: a novel. N. Y., Appleton, 1889. 4+374 p. D. (Appleton's town and country lib., no. 19.) cl., 75 c.; pap., 50 c.

The story of a young girl, Bawn Desmond, whose love for a dead father, and her desire to clear his good name of an unmerited suspicion, lead her into many remarkable experiences. Arthur Desmond was an Irish gentleman, who settled in Minnesota in its early days, and made a fortune. "Bawn" was his only child, and he did not hide from her, as she grew to be a woman, that there was a blight upon his life. After his death his papers tell her of a murder he is accused of and of which he swears he is innocent. Under an assumed name and as a poor woman she goes back to Ireland, and lives among her father's people, succeeding finally in proving his innocence.

Mullinger, J. Bass. A history of the University of Cambridge. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., [1889.] 13+232 p. D. (Epochs of church history.) cl., 80 c.

"The following sketch will suffice to show that it was in the University of Cambridge that the Reformation in England had its real commencement; that it was there that Puritanism first assumed a distinct organization, and at the same time encountered the most effective resistance; that it was there also that a movement which most materially influenced the religious thought of the seventeenth century—the teaching of the Cambridge Platonists—took its rise and made its most important contributions to the cause of freedom and toleration."—Preface.

*Myer, W. G. Federal decisions; cases in the supreme, circuit, and district courts of the United States. V. 27, Quantum-meruit—Swamp lands. St. Louis, The Gilbert Bk. Co., 1888. c. 4+17-1135 p. O. shp., subs., $7.50.

*Pennsylvania. Supreme court. Reports, v. 120; by Boyd Crumrine, st. rep. V. 5, Jan. and Oct. terms, 1888. N. Y. and Alb., Banks & Bros., 1888. c. 36+693 p. O. shp., $3.50.

Roberts, C. G. D., ed. Poems of wild life. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1888. 17+238 p. T. (Canterbury poets.) cl., 40 c.

Runkle, J. D. Elements of plane analytic geometry. Bost., Ginn & Co., 1888. c. 10+344 p. O. cl., $2.

The needs of the students of the Institute of Technology have been kept in mind in the preparation of this book. The time which they can devote to the subject is limited, and yet it is necessary that they should become reasonably familiar with its more elementary and fundamental parts. For this reason, the earlier chapters are treated with somewhat more fulness than is usual.

Saunders, F. Stray leaves of literature. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1888. c. 5+200 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Thirteen essays by the author of "Salad for the solitary" entitled: Old book notes; Ballad and song literature; Human sympathy; The seasons and their change; Physiognomy; The mystery of music; The survival of books; Life's little day; Our social salutations; The symbolism of flowers; Head, heart, and hand; Smiles and tears; Day and night.

Schreiner, Olive, ["Ralph Iron," pseud.] The story of an African farm: a novel. N. Y. and Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., 1889. 8+258 p. D. (Globe lib., no. 81.) pap., 25 c.

Sharp, W. Life of Heinrich Heine. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1888. 3-212+17 p. D. (Great writers ser.) cl., 40 c.

The life is supplemented by a very full bibliography of Heine by J. P. Anderson, of the British Museum.

Shorthouse, J. H. The Countess Eve. N. Y., J. W. Lovell Co., [1889.] 117 p. D. (Lovell's lib., no. 1305.) pap., 20 c.

- *Simonds, W. Edgar. A digest of patent cases; embracing all patent cases decided in the Federal and State courts from 1789 to 1888. N. Y., L. K. Strouse & Co., 1888. c. 2+940 p. O. shp., $10.
- Sluys, A. Manual training in elementary schools for boys, pt. 1; ed. by Nicholas Murray Butler. N. Y., Industrial Education Assoc., 1889. c. 37 p. O. (Monographs, v. 2, no. 1.) pap., 20 c.
- The author is the director of the Normal School, Brussels, Belgium. The present work, translated from the French, with his permission for the "Educational Monograph Series," is considered the best and most accurate, as well as the most condensed treatment of the subject that has yet appeared in any language.
- *Texas. Early laws of Texas; general laws from 1836 to 1879, also laws of 1731 to 1835, as found in the laws and decrees of Spain and of Mexico. In 3 v., comp. and arranged by J. Sayles and H. Sayles, with an introduction by Hon. A. H. Willie. V. 1, [1731-1845.] St. Louis, The Gilbert Book Co., 1888. c. O. shp., $24.
- Thompson, Helen H. Strong, comp. Songs in the night-watches from voices old and new. N. Y., The Baker & Taylor Co., 1888. c. 15+297 p. S. cl., $1.25.
- This is a collection of religious verse designed, in the words of the compiler, "to pierce with a joyous note the darkness of the night." The songs are classified under 1, Darkness; 2, Heaviness; 3, Temptation; 4, Humiliation; 5, Poverty; 6, Captivity; 7, Fear; 8, "The house of my pilgrimage;" 9, Remembrance; 10, Sickness; 11, Bereavement; 12, Death; 13, "The song of songs," and "The new songs."
- Van der Smissen, W. H., and Fraser, W. H. The high school German grammar; with appendices, exercises in composition, and vocabularies. N. Y., Appleton, 1888. 7+453 p. D. cl., $1.50.
- The lessons and exercises have been made, as far as possible, strictly progressive, so that the beginner may not at the outset be overburdened and impeded by too copious vocabularies, or by too difficult exercises. At the same time each separate subject, as for instance the declension of substantives, is fully treated before being dismissed. Copious examples are given in illustration of each rule.
- Werner, E., [pseud. for E. Bürstenbinder.] A judgment of God: a romance; tr. by Mary Stuart and G. Harrison Smith. N. Y., G. Munro, [1889.] 162 p. D. (Seaside lib., pocket ed., no. 1154.) pap., 20 c.
- *Wisconsin. Supreme court. Reports of cases. F. K. Conover, off. rep. V. 71, Feb. 28-May 12, 1888. Chic., Callaghan & Co., 1888. c. 29+734 p. O. shp., $2.75.

- A record of the life and work of Mr. and Mrs. James Knowles, two faithful and earnest workers in city missions. Mr. Knowles was an elder in the Allen Street Presbyterian Church of New York, and Mrs. Knowles for over a quarter of a century was in the Tenth Ward a Bible-reader and visitor. Many extracts are given from Mrs. Knowles' diary illustrating her experience and showing the power of prayer. The sermons preached at their funerals and a brief historical sketch of the Allen Street Presbyterian Church are among the many interesting things the book contains.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—A. A. Waterman & Co. have formed a partnership to engage in the wholesale book business at 36 Bromfield Street. They will make a specialty of high school and college text books, works of reference, and the better classes of general books. Mr. Waterman, who will have entire charge of the business, is somewhat known among business men in Boston and New York as Superintendent of the Harvard Cooperative Society, at Cambridge, and as a member of the firm of Waterman & Amee at the same place—both of which connections he still retains.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—Waterman & Amee will continue the business of the late firm of Waterman, Amee & Co., as local retail booksellers only.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Brinckerhoff Printing and Publishing Company, proprietors of The Publishing World, has closed up its affairs, and all rights to the paper have been transferred to Richard Brinckerhoff, the President of the late company. The business has been removed from 771 Broadway to the printing office of Robert Pierce & Co., 53 Lafayette Place.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Frank Leslie Publishing Company has been incorporated. The capital stock is said to be $1,000,000, in 1000 shares. The managers are Mrs. Frank Leslie, John Y. Foster, L. H. Cramer, John W. Timpson, Philip G. Bartlett, Thomas Thacher, and William Williams.

NEW YORK CITY.—The old publishing firm of Clark & Maynard has been dissolved, Lucius E. Clark having retired. Mr. Effingham Maynard and Mr. Everett Yeaw have succeeded to the old firm, and will continue the business under the firm-name of Effingham, Maynard & Co.

NEW YORK CITY.—The New York Machine Type-setting Company has been formed and incorporated at Albany under the Manufacturing Act of February 17, 1848, by Theodore L. De Vinne No. 12 Lafayette Place; Edward Taylor, No. 207 East Twelfth St.; James W. Pratt, No. 75 Fulton St.; R. H. Smith, No. 82 Beekman St., and William C. Rogers and other residents of New York State. In the articles of incorporation it is set forth that "The objects for which the company is formed are the setting and the distributing of type by machinery or otherwise and the manufacture of stereotype, electrotype, and other plates." The capital stock of the company is said to be $75,000, divided into 750 shares of $100 each. The company is to continue in existence for fifty years, and the incorporators named are to be its trustees for the first year. Its chief office is to be in this city.—N. Y. Tribune.

PERSONAL NOTES.

MR. JOHN FERGUSSON, representing Gebbie & Co., sailed for England on the Umbria, January 5, for a two months' business trip.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JANUARY 12, 1889.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

SOME PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

AN international copyright is in the interest of publishers as well as authors; not for the purpose of increasing the price of books (it will not do this), but to secure the rights of authors and publishers alike. The absence of such a law has deprived the author of his just rights and the publisher of his reasonable profit; and it is devoutly to be wished that this wrong may soon be righted.

But authors must have publishers, and publishers a proper and adequate distributing agency. A dozen copyright laws would not help the author or the publisher, unless the books were sold. There must be an organized distributing system. Not only the books of to-day must be kept within the eye of the people generally, but the older lines, also, more or less full. Can this be done by any other agency than the book-store, which is a training-school for buyers? What the regular publishing business man wants is not a large sale on two or three of the best books of the year, "which will sell themselves," but a fair sale of all the new lines, and a distribution, more or less, of the old, by means of an exhibit on the shelves of the book-store. What the bookseller needs is the benefit of a living profit on the new lines, that he may carry in stock some of the old.

Publishers and booksellers, I think, will know what I mean by the statement. If any should not, I will be glad to show them two or three lists now lying before me, in which certain new books are offered at a retail price lower than I, as a bookseller, paid for them, and others within ten per cent. of those which the ordinary retail bookseller pays the jobber. The authors and publishers are urging the booksellers to lend a hand in securing an international copyright law. As a class, I believe the booksellers are honestly doing this, but it may fairly be asked, in the face of certain depressing facts, 1. What are the legitimate publishers now doing for the American bookseller? 2. Are not certain modern methods of theirs sapping the very foundations of the booksellers' purchasing and distributing power? 3. Are not these very methods already beginning to tell seriously against the general interests of the publishers themselves? RETAILER.

THE HALE COPYRIGHT CASE.

THE copyright question raised in the matter of Mr. Hale's copyright in two short stories, "The Man Without a Country" and "My Double, and How He Undid Me," presents some curious features. A previous paragraph spoke of Mr. Hale's "issuing" an injunction against Messrs. Porter & Coates, which was a misprint. He claimed the right to an injunction, but the question had not, at last accounts, been brought to a test in the courts. Both stories were published in the Atlantic Monthly in its early days, and were made part by Messrs. Ticknor & Fields of a volume originally called "Atlantic Tales." The plates of this, with all rights, were bought at the Osgood sale by Messrs. Porter & Coates, and there was no notice in the catalogue, or verbal or other notice that it was subject to copyright. Messrs. Porter & Coates renamed the book "Modern Classics," and copyrighted under this title. It has of late years been made part of their popular Alta series. Messrs. Porter & Coates, under these circumstances, should scarcely be called "pirates." It is now stated that in the original publication one of these stories was not copyrighted at all, and that the other was entered only under the general Atlantic copyright, which in the year in question was wrongly dated and therefore technically void. Under the whole contention is an interesting question of the right to reprint short stories.

ANOTHER "SLEUTH" CASE.

ANOTHER of the cases brought by George Munro to enjoin the use by other publishers of the word "Sleuth" as part of the title of a detective story was decided by Judge Parker, January 4, 1889, and judgment entered accordingly in favor of the plaintiff against Frank Tousey. Judge Parker held: That George Munro has the exclusive right "to use the word 'Sleuth' in or as part of the title of works of fiction or in or as part of the pseudonym of the author of works of fiction," and that the word "Sleuth" as part of the title of a work of fiction is a trade-mark belonging to said plaintiff; and that the said defendant has infringed the rights of the plaintiff in that respect by the publication of books by the following titles: "Young Sleuth, the Detective, in Chicago," "Young Sleuth, the Keen Detective," "Young Sleuth and the Scotland Yard Detective," "The Broken Button, or Young Sleuth on the Trail," "Phebe Paullin's Fate, or Tracked by Young Sleuth," and "Old King Brady, the Sleuth-Hound." All these titles are held by Judge Parker to be fraudulent imitations of George Munro's Old Sleuth Library. By this decision Judge Parker overrules a decision by Judge Ingraham in a suit by George Munro against Beadle & Adams, the publishers of Beadle's Dime Library; and he reaffirms rulings previously made by Judge O'Brien and Judge Addoms in previous cases. Judge Parker, in another decision filed at the same time, grants an injunction against the use by the defendant of the titles "Young Bruce, the Giant Detective," "£10,000 reward, or the Young Irish Detective," which titles are held by him to be fraudulent imitations of the plaintiff's titles, "Old Ironsides, the Giant Detective," "The Giant Detective in France," and "The Irish Detective," contained in the Old Sleuth Library. In both cases Judge Parker directs Frank Tounsey to account before a referee and pay over to George Munro all amounts he has made by the sale of books under any of the titles or similar titles.

HOW AN AUTHORESS WOULD PROVIDE FOR HER COLLABORATEURS.

Arlo Bates, in the January Book Buyer.

A PUBLISHER told me the other day a bit of business experience which is mildly diverting. A young woman brought him a manuscript, which after due consideration he expressed himself willing to publish in a paper fifty cents series, paying the usual ten per cent. royalty. The young woman expressed herself willing to accept this offer, although she frankly said that she had hoped for better terms.

"But," she added, thoughtfully, "if it costs much to make the book, I should not think twenty-five cents would leave you a great deal of profit." "Twenty-five cents?" repeated the publisher, not at all understanding.

"Why," explained she, "there are five of us girls who wrote this together. Ten per cent. of fifty cents is five cents, and five times five is twenty-five. If it takes a quarter of a dollar to pay us five girls our royalty, that leaves you just the same amount."

The naïveté of the proposition so amused the publisher that he declares he was tempted to leave the error unexplained. He said, however: "But of course you can see that we shall not lose so much as we should if there had been ten of you, for then we should have to make the book for nothing and lose the booksellers' discount beside. Really, though, I fear you will be obliged to do with a cent apiece." And his proposition was rejected with indignation, the amusing part of the story being that the lady who conducted the negotiations declared if there were only one author, ten per cent. would do very well, but that anybody could see that it would not amount to anything divided among five people.

COMMUNICATIONS.

THE NEW BATTLE OF THE BOOKS.

I FOUND a new "book-store" a few days ago. It was on the sidewalk, in front of a dry-goods house. The stock was not large. A placard announced that you could get $2.75 worth for $1. I could not resist the appeal, so I bought a single pro-rata book: size small 4to, 244 pp., well and very freely illustrated, printed on calendered paper, substantially bound, for 25 cents! I had bought many books this season, at "rock-bottom rates," but this beats them all.

This book is not published by one of "our leading houses." The imprint is new to me, and yet shows that it is the product of what must be a large establishment. It was but a single book, and yet it seemed like a danger signal. For years some of us have been making books by the million for the new "book-stores." But of late there has not been much money in the business; some of us have come to speak hard words, as we contemplated the loss of our trade, under the system which we so industriously helped to nurse into life. And now? Why, we are in danger of losing the little that is left, for the new methods are beginning to develop home manufactures. Though it be an "infant industry," it cannot but grow, seeing that for years it has had the fostering care of the whole "trade."

To me the outlook now begins to look dark for "12mos" and "boards." A book is a book anyway. So long as there are piles of them on a counter, a great variety is not needed, if the price is "low." To sell "low," the middleman's profit, however small, must be dispensed with. Direct manufacture must be the law, and it will govern.

I see no possible way out but the formation of two Trusts—"A Twelvemo Trust" and "A Board Cover Trust." Can this be done? I hope so. But suppose the other people should also form a Trust, and "buy" us out or "squeeze" us out. Well, that, perhaps, might be the best, for then we should really get more than we do now, and could put the proceeds into something that would pay better.

4TO BOARDS.

UNSOLD COPIES CANNOT BE RETURNED AT POUND RATES THROUGH THE POST-OFFICE.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27, 1888.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

DEAR SIR: We have just now received a notice from the P. O. authorities here, that we cannot return pound rate books, etc., to publishers. Can you give us any light?

Yours truly, A. EYRICH.

[This case is covered by par. 7, sec. 5, page 700, January, 1888, Postal Guide, which provides that "news agents cannot return unsold copies to publishers at pound rates; but such copies may be sent at one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof."—ED. P. W.]

OBITUARY.

ALFRED S. GRIFFITHS.

ALFRED S. GRIFFITHS died very suddenly, January 6, at his home in Hackensack, N. J., of apoplexy. Mr. Griffiths was for many years a member of the firm of Wm. Wood & Co., medical book publishers in this city. He withdrew from the concern some five years ago, and ill-health has prevented his return to business. But during the last year his health had greatly improved, and he had arranged to enter upon the book business again. After breakfast, on the 6th inst., he lay down on the lounge and was dead in a few minutes almost without a struggle. Mr. Griffiths had been one of the Commissioners of Hackensack, and was an enterprising and public-spirited citizen. He leaves a widow and three sons.

J. O. HALLIWELL-PHILLIPS.

THIS eminent man of letters died in London, January 4, aged sixty-nine. He was a rapid and prolific writer and produced in all nearly one hundred volumes. His "Dictionary of Archaic and Provincial Words," published in 1847, was the first of great importance. It brought him to the notice of scholars and he became editor of many of the works published by the Percy, Camden, and Shakespeare Societies. In his "Life of Shakespeare" (1848) he was the first to bring together many facts now known about Shakespeare's life. He inherited an ample fortune when he added Phillips to his family name, which enabled him to carry out his most ambitious researches, and his beautiful home at Brighton was frequented by the leading scholars of Europe. Among his notable books are "Letters of the Kings of England" (1846); "Nursery Rhymes of England" (1843); and "Early History of Freemasonry." The crowning labor of his life, completed in 1865, was an edition of Shakespeare in sixteen volumes, appropriately illustrated.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

NOAH BROOKS has written an article on the explorer Henry M. Stanley, whose real name he claims is John Rowlands. The article will appear in the February issue of the St. Nicholas, and will be illustrated with a new portrait of the explorer, maps, etc.

THE proprietors of Tillotson's Newspaper Literature have opened an office at 44 Temple Court Building, corner Beekman and Nassau Streets, New York City, and appointed Mr. W. Philip Robinson its manager. Mr. Robinson has had journalistic experience on the American, Canadian, English, and French press. Business communications should be addressed as above.

SOME unpublished minutes of the historic "Thompson Street Poker Club" are to appear in Collier's Once a Week. There is a learned disquisition on "De Deal," by Mr. Tooter Williams; a few remarks on "Ante, Blin,' an' Straddle," by Professor Brick; a discourse on "De Limmick," by Elder Jubilee Anderson; on "Bobtail Flisks, Strakers, an' Siders," by Gus Johnson, Esq., and on "The Kitty n' Jackers," by the volatile Cyanide Whiffles.

THE American Chemical Journal (Johns Hopkins University) begins volume XI. with the January number and will hereafter issue eight numbers a year instead of six. This extra space thus afforded will be used to restore the feature of reviews, reports, and abstracts, which formed a somewhat prominent feature of the earlier volumes, but have been crowded out by submitted articles of present importance. The price will be raised in consequence of the increase of size.

THE new periodical, Ocean, begins its second volume with the Christmas number, which appears with numerous illustrations and an illuminated cover. Several new departments have been added to this excellent magazine of travel, among them those devoted to naval matters, the Barge Office, and the revenue cutter service. Its principal features, our ocean steamers, travel, tropical resorts, etc., are made entertaining as well as useful. There is ample room for such a publication, and the conductors of Ocean make it well worthy of support. It is published by John H. Gould, No 45 Broadway.

THE March number of the Century will contain the first instalment of a novel by Mrs. Mary Hallock Foote, to be called "The Last Assembly Ball, a pseudo-romance of the Far West." Mrs. Foote has spent most of her married life in Western mining camps, her husband being a civil engineer. She first made her reputation as an artist and still draws her pictures for the Century upon the original wood-block, just the size they are to appear, a practice almost all the Century artists have abandoned, their drawings being transferred to the block by the camera. The Art Department of the Century also transfer Mrs. Foote's drawings, so that the original may be preserved.

THE Yankee dialect made famous in Lowell's "Biglow Papers" is now scarcely to be heard in New England, save in odd corners like the home of "Cape Cod Folks," or in the mountain fastnesses in New Hampshire, or among the Berkshire Hills. A new writer, Ella Loomis Pratt, who has done some clever sketches from the last-named region in the columns of the Springfield Republican and other journals, has treated that life and dialect in a full-fledged novel, "A Gentleman of Fairden," which is announced as a feature of The Literary News, New York, for 1889. It is said to abound in pleasant and humorous pictures of places and people in the Berkshires.

THE January issue of Wide Awake (D. Lothrop Co.) is still full of the spirit of the Christmas-tide and both in text and illustrations is still keeping holiday. It opens with "The Cricket Fiddler," a violin recitation, with words by Clara Doty Bates, violin accompaniment by Julius Eichberg, and funny little crickets by L. J. Bridgman. "Good Luck," by Hezekiah Butterworth, "Such a Little Thing," by Mrs. L. B. Walford, and "Minty Malvina's Santa Claus," by M. E. M. Davis, are Christmas stories. Margaret Sidney and Trowbridge have serials, Mrs. Frémont writes of grizzly bears, and Prof. Starr, under the title, "A Queer Bundle of Sticks," proves that elephants once wandered in American woods. A bright feature has been added to the magazine in the department of "Men and Things," made up of contributed anecdotes, reminiscences, descriptions, and "short talks."

MISS DORA WHEELER, the well-known decorative artist, has given much of her spare time during the past two or three years to painting, either in pastel or oils, a series of portraits of authors here and abroad, many of whom are numbered among her personal friends. Unfortunately several of those of English authors who had given her sittings during her stay in London, in 1886, including Mrs. Thackeray Ritchie, Mr. Walter Besant, Mr. Thomas Hardy, and Mr. Austin Dobson, whose further acquaintance the American public is always glad to make, were lost in transit. Since that time her sitters have been exclusively American authors, and she has finished, or nearly finished, portraits of Mrs. Stowe, Mrs. Burnett, Mr. Lowell, "Mark Twain," Mr. Warner, Mr. Howells, Mr. Aldrich, Mr. Stockton, Mr. Burroughs, Walt Whitman, and others. The interesting announcement is made that these portraits will be given as frontispieces through the year for The Literary News, New York. Mrs. Stowe is portrayed in the January number, and Mrs. Burnett will be given in that for February.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

HENRY BLACKWELL, Woodside, L. I. (No. 3), collection of books relating to the Celts, Druids, Ancient Britain, Wales and the Welsh, nearly all in the English language. (12 p., 12°.)—Cupples & Hurd, 94 Boylston St., Boston, Recent publications. (24 p., 24°.)—Harding & Willby, 6 Hyde St., London, Scarce and curious miscellaneous and theological books. (32 p., 16°.)—H. Mitman, Bethlehem, Pa., Miscellaneous books, chiefly second-hand. (12 p., 8°.)—F. M. Morris, 75 Madison St., Chicago, Ill. (No. 2, Dec., 1888), English and American books. (34 p., 16°.)—Henry Sotheran & Co., 136 Strand, London, Sotheran's Price Current of Literature, No. 479. (56 p., 12°.)

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE speeches and addresses of the Prince of Wales for the past twenty-five years (1863-1888) will be published by John Murray, under the editorial care of Dr. James Macauley, with a portrait of the Prince.

PROF. T. T. TIMAYENIS, the Greek scholar and littérateur, was discharged in the Tombs Police Court, New York City, on the 8th inst., by Justice Ford, the latter holding that no limited partnership in the Minerva Publishing Company had been shown.

THE DE VINNE PRESS have published a little vest-pocket volume, dainty in every respect, and called "Brilliant: a setting of humorous poetry in brilliant types," as a sort of advertisement of the Lilliputian resources of this great establishment.

REV. DR. ALEXANDER KOHUT's long-promised commentary on the Talmud is shortly to appear. As it was strongly endorsed by resolutions passed unanimously at the recent meeting of the National Association of Hebrew Ministers, it must be accepted by students as an authority upon its subject.

INTELLIGENT CRITICISM.

From Time.

Mabelle.—Have you read "Robert Elsmere," Nan?

Nan.—Oh, yes, indeed.

"And how did you like it?"

"Oh, it's just splendid!"

"Isn't it, though?"

"Wasn't Elsmere lovely?"

"Wasn't he, though?"

"What an awful flirt Rose was!"

"Dreadful!"

"What did you think of Robert's wife?"

"Oh, she was a regular prude, wasn't she?"

"Of course. But what did you think of the theology of the book?"

"The theology. Good heavens, I didn't know there was any in it! I guess I skipped that."

"Did you? Why, so did I. Anyhow, I can say I've read the book."

"So can I."

Annual Catalogues. 1888.

The Annual American Catalogue for 1888 will be ready as early in 1889 as the mechanical difficulties permit. It will contain:

- (1) Directory of American Publishers issuing books in 1888.
- (2) Full-title Record, with descriptive notes, in author-alphabet, of all books recorded in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY 1888.
- (3) Author-, title-, and subject-index to same, in one alphabet
- (4) Publishers' annual lists for 1888.

The edition is limited, and to secure copies orders should be sent at once. The price is $3.00 sheets, $3.50 half leather; if ordered before publication, the price will be $2.50 in sheets, $3.00 half leather.

The Annual Catalogue for 1886 is now out of print. But few copies of the Annual Catalogue for 1887 are on hand.

The English Catalogue for 1888 is also expected early, price $1.50, paper; the Annual American and English Catalogues, 1888, can be had in one volume, half leather, $5 00.

Early orders for both Catalogues are solicited.

The Literary News.

With 1889, the LITERARY NEWS will become a capital Dollar Magazine, while keeping to its specialty of giving in an hour's bright reading a bird's-eye view of new books and literary affairs.

A charming novel of New England life, by a new writer, will begin in January and run through the year.

A series of portraits, from original paintings by MISS DORA WHEELER, of Living American Authors, will make fine frontispieces to each number, accompanying descriptive sketches of "Authors and How They Work." Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Stowe will be among the first given.

Bright articles based on new books will be finely illustrated from them.

The "Survey of Current Literature" presents the best quick view of current literature given in any periodical.

A page of humor and miscellany, usually illustrated by "comics," will enliven each number.

Every bookseller who pushes the LITERARY NEWS, pushes his own trade also, because it is specially intended to help him sell books.

Any bookseller who takes 100 copies monthly has his own imprint-advertisement printed on front cover free. It becomes thus practically his own magazine.

Terms, One Dollar a year; Ten Cents a number.

TO THE TRADE: on sale and return, 6 cents a number; outright (10 or more copies), 5 cents a number; 100 copies monthly, with imprint, $5; 250 copies, $10; 1000 copies, $35. On single copies, mailed to subscribers from this office direct, at $1, one-third commission will be allowed.

MESSRS. ROBERTS BROTHERS announce for publication, January 15, 1889, the following:

LOUIS LAMBERT.

By HONORÉ DE BALZAC. Translated by KATHERINE PRESCOTT WORMELEY. With an introduction by GEORGE FREDERIC PARSONS. 12mo, half russias, uniform with the previous volumes, $1.50.

Balzac in this story condenses a very curious and comprehensive philosophy, representing nearly all those occult doctrines of archaic, and especially of Oriental origin, which have within the past few years attracted so much attention and roused so much interest in this country and in Europe. Balzac, who knew everything, seems to have anticipated the modern Theosophists completely. Mr. George Frederic Parsons has written for the book a long and careful introduction, in which the full significance of this great master's work is shown.

THE STORY OF REALMAH.

By SIR ARTHUR HELPS, author of "Friends in Council," "Casimir Maremma." First American Edition. 16mo, cloth, 75 cents.

A READING OF EARTH.

Poems. By GEORGE MEREDITH, author of "Ballads and Poems of Tragic Life," "Richard Feverel," etc. Extra fcp. 8vo, cloth, $1.50.

PORTFOLIO PAPERS.

By P. G. HAMERTON, author, of "The Intellectual Life," etc. With a portrait of the author, etched from the life by H. MANESSE. 12mo, cloth, $2.00.

EARLY ORDERS SOLICITED.

3 SOMERSET STREET, BOSTON.

THE INAUGURATION BALL.

TO DANCE OR NOT TO DANCE.

The Dance of Modern Society.

By WILLIAM CLEAVER WILKINSON. Revised Edition. A work that will prove invaluable to all who cannot settle this disputed question of Dancing. They will hail a clear, vigorous, thorough, and courageous treatment of the question. Cloth, 60 cents.

Independent, N. Y.: "We do not hesitate to say that this little essay entitles him (Mr. Wilkinson) to a front rank among American essayists. He is quite as sparkling and more sententious than Parton. He is immeasurably stronger and more vigorous than Timothy Titcomb. His earnestness is not surpassed by that of Mrs. Stowe. We know no writer who equals him in the courage with which he handles the most delicate and difficult subjects.

Harper's Magazine: "The most pungent attack on the modern dance we have ever read."

English Hymns, THEIR AUTHORS AND HISTORY,

By Rev. SAMUEL W. DUFFIELD, cites in alphabetical order the first lines of over 1500 Hymns.

Under each is given a brief biographical sketch of the author, circumstances attending its composition, and incidents in connection with its use. Exhaustive indexes to authors, to first lines, and to topics, are appended. To Leaders of Praise Meetings, Sunday-school Teachers, Parents, Pastors, and the general hymn-loving public, it will be found invaluable. The selection of hymns has been made with great care, and only well-authenticated incidents are given. American as well as English hymnology has been drawn upon. 8vo, cloth, 675 pages, $2.50.

WHO WROTE THE HYMNS WE LOVE SO WELL?

Who wrote "The Doxology," "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Come, Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove," in fact, many of the Hymns which in the Church, the Prayer-Meeting, the Sunday-school, and at the fireside we love to sing, or hear sung? And how came their authors to write with such intense fervor, and to express universal soul experiences?

STEDMAN (the Poet) says: "This is a noble volume, a monument to the author's taste, learning, and faithful industry. It is indispensable to every one interested in English Hymnology." S. AUSTIN ALLIBONE says: "It is a massive compendium—the intelligent result of years of well-applied labor. Dr. THEO. L. CUYLER says: "For twenty years I have made a special study of Hymnology. This is by far the most complete, accurate, and thorough work of the kind on either side of the Atlantic." Hon EDWARDS PIERREPONT says: "It bears evidence of immense research and years of labor. The full and admirable sketch of 'Lead, Kindly Light,' is worth the cost of the book." Dr. CHAS. S. ROBINSON says: "It pleases me altogether. It is full of information."

"It meets a want which the Concordance cannot supply."—The Christian Intelligencer, New York.

Biblical Lights and Side Lights

By REV. CHARLES E. LITTLE, author of "Historical Lights," etc., etc. A CYCLOPÆDIA OF TEN THOUSAND ILLUSTRATIONS AND THIRTY THOUSAND CROSS-REFERENCES. Consisting of fact, incident, and remarkable declarations taken from the Bible; for the use of public speakers and teachers, and also for those in every profession who for illustrative purposes desire ready access to the numerous incidents and striking statements contained in the Bible. 8vo, cloth, 632 pages, $4.00; library sheep, $5.00.

Sunday-School Times: "A true book of illustration; it fills a place of its own."

Observer, New York: "Will unquestionably prove a mine of information and of illustration for ministers, Sunday-school teachers, and Bible students."

Lutheran Church Review, Philadelphia: "A work of great solidity and merit. It deserves a place alongside of Young's Concordance."

FUNK & WAGNALLS, Publishers, 18 and 20 Astor Place, New York.
